A NEGRO WOMAN FOUND DEAD.

BODY LAY IN AN OLD CARRIAGE.

Lizzie Crockett Probably Went by the Whiskey and Morphine Route—Was Addicted to Both Habits—Body Discovered by a Former Employer, Who Notified the Officers—Buried at the Expense of the County.

Early this morning the dead body of Lizzie Crockett, a colored woman, was found in a vacant lot in the rear of J. A Wagner's restaurant, on Lewis street. Mr Wagner was the first to notice the woman, and thinking something was wrong, notified Officers Whittington and Jeffreys, who made an investigation and found that she was dead.

The body was reclining on the seat of an old dilapidated carriage and was not then stiff or cold. In the absence of the coroner, Dr. J. P. Turner, who is out of the city, Dr. R. L. Rierson was summoned to make an examination. He found that life had not been extinct for more than two or three hours. There were no signs of violence and an inquest was not deemed necessary.

The body was turned over to Aaron Mendenhall, who prepared it for burial at the expense of the county.

Death was probably caused by whiskey and morphine, to both of which habits the woman was addicted. She was known to have purchased a small quantity of the latter drug last night, and she is thought to have been drinking also. She was seen as late as 11 o'clock in company with a negro man.

Becoming overpowered by the effects of whiskey and morphine, she probably went into the vacant lot in search of a place to lie down, and found the old carriage in the rear of the restaurant. She was heard by Mr. Wagner at 5 o'clock this morning, but knowing her habits, he supposed her to be drunk, and paid no further attention to her.

The woman had been employed by Mr. Wagner as a cook in his restaurant. She was to have gone to work for a family at Proximity this morning.

When the physician went down to examine the body it was surrounded by a crowd of negroes, attracted to the spot by morbid curiosity, but their native superstition would not allow one of them to touch their dead acquaintance. To them the sight of the form upon which death had laid its chilly fingers in the early morning hours, produced something more than a feeling of solemnity or sympathy; it was more akin to a feeling of dread superstition and awe, a kind of dire warning from some unseen power.

WAS ANXIOUS TO SELL.

"Rockhouse Kid" Wanted to Sell a Fine Gun at Any Old Price.

A negro by the name of Joe Smith, alias "Rockhouse Kid," was going around town this morning with a fine double-barrel shot gun which he offered to sell at any old price. The gun, he said, cost $50 (and he probably told the truth in this particular,) but on account of being in need of ready cash, he would sell it for $5. It didn't take very long to find some one ready to trade on this proposition, and the gun was about to be be exchanged for a five-dollar bill, when Chief Scott chanced to pass along and investigate the transaction. He was satisfied that the gun had been stolen and locked up the negro on suspicion.

The gun is in the office of the Chief of Police, where the owner can get it by identifying it.

WANTED HIS DOG.

But the Officer Was Up to a Few Tricks Also.

For the past few days the officers have been making raids on dogs upon which the tax has not been paid, with the result that a number have been impounded. Saturday evening a negro employed by Mr. S. C. Dodson came to Chief Scott with a dog check and a long face, saying some "wuthless nigger" had taken the check off his dog, causing Fido to be locked up. Taking the check, Mr. Scott compared it with his book and saw that it was the same number sold to Mr. Dodson.

It was a pretty shrewd trick on the part of the negro, who really expected to fool the officers and get his dog without paying the tariff.

THE EMPEROR IN TEARS.

Beseeches the Empress to Not Bring Ruin on the Empire--An American Sortie. Thousands of Chinese Held Back.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Victoria, B. C., Sept. 3.—Chinese refugees say, in a copy of the North China Gazette brought here today, that the Emperor, in tears and groveling at the feet of the Empress Dowager, besought her not to attack the legations and bring ruin on the empire. He was contemptuously refused and driven away by the Empress and Prince Tuan.

The same paper says the American minister and Baron Von Kettler were warned by three Chinese ministers. Baron Von Kettler refused to heed the warning not to go to Tsung Li Yamen on the day he was killed.

The following account of a sortie by American marines is given: The Mexican legation was surrounded by thousands of Chinese when Capt. Meyer and his men charged and drove them back, holding them until a barricade could be built.

TO PROTECT FOREIGNERS.

A French Gunboat Going Up the Yang Tse Kiang River—French Opinion of America's Policy.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Paris, Sept. 3—A dispatch from Shanghai reports the French gunboat Surprise on the way from Taku to that port for the purpose of ascending the Yang Tse Kiang river for the protection of foreigners in Nankin and Hankow.

According to advices from Nankin, three British war ships have entered the Yang Tse river.

Li Hung Chang is said to have demanded the services of two maritime viceroys and two members of the council of Tsung Li Yamen as peace negotiators.

The French opinion of the American policy in China is that it is quite untrustworthy, being inspired mainly by electioneering motives.

LABOR DAY OBSERVED.

Working People Take Holiday and Enjoy Themselves—Big Parades.

By Wire to The Telegram.

New York, Sept. 3—Labor Day was universally observed as a holiday in this city. There were no large parades, but the streets were filled with jolly picnickers, and all sports were largely attended.

Buffalo, N. Y.. Sept. 3—Labor Day was generally celebratod here. This morning there was a great parade of labor organizations, thousands of laborers participating.

St. Louis, Sept. 3—All kinds of business is generally suspended. Over 25,000 men participated in a parade of labor organizations.

Otis Succeeds Wheeler.

By Wire to the Telegram.

Washington, Sept. 3.—General Otis has been selected to fill the post of commanding officer of the Department of the Lakes, made vacant today by the retirement of General Joseph Wheeler. General Chaffee will be made a brigadier general.

Wreck Near Staley.

There was a slight freight wreck near Staley, on the A. & Y. division of the Southern, about noon today. The journal under one of the cars of a local freight train broke, and three or four cars were derailed before the train could be stopped, some of them being badly damaged. There is no telegraph office at Staley and the above particulars are all that have been received at the superintendent's office here.

The other trains on the road were delayed several hours on account of the wreck.

Guilford College Opens.

Prof. T. G. Pearson, who spent most of his vacation in Greensboro, went to Guilford College today. The college opens tomorrow, and judging from the large number of young people who left or passed through Greensboro for that place today, the attendance will be very satisfactory.

Greensboro will be well represented at Guilford this year, the following eight young men being in attendance: Elmer Leak, Rolana Hill, Henry Smith, James Lewis, Jack Love, Will Glascock, Percy Gentry and Clinton Gentry.

REPUBLICANS IN CONCLAVE

STATE COMMITTEE HERE TODAY

Arranging for the Presidential Campaign, Which They Will Open on the 5th—Will Endeavor to Plol the Party's "Full Strength"—No Hope of Carrying the State for McKinley—Chairman Holton Will Run the Campaign from Greensboro.

According to a call by Chairman Holton, the Republican State Executive Committee met in Greensboro this afternoon to "take stock," as it were, this being the first meeting since the late election. The following were those present:

Chairman Holton, of Winston; Secretary Hyams, of the Ninth District; Treasurer Bailey, of Davie county; Collector H. S. Harkins, of Asheville; Collector E. C. Duncan, of Raleigh; United States Marshal Dockery, of Raleigh; Assistant District Attorney E. Spencer Blackburn, of Winston; United States Marshal Millikan and Postmaster Tyre Glenn, of Greeensboro; Revenue Officer and ex-Sheriff J. A. Hoskins, of Summerfield; J. W. C. Long, of Statesville; Heenan Hughes, of Graham; D. S. Crawford, of Orange county; Major H. L. Grant, of Goldsboro; D. W. Patrick, of Snow Hill, and R. J. Lewis, from the Second District.

The meeting was held for the purpose of arranging for the coming National campaign, but it is understood that, after surveying the wreck of the Republican party and considering the majority given the constitutional amendment on August 2d, they resolved that it was worse than folly to talk of carrying North Carolina for McKinley, or any other Republican. The most they hope to do is to keep up some sort of a party organization.

In response to an inquiry as to whether an effort would be made to vote the negroes in November, a member of the committee said, with despair and hopelessness written across his countenance, "We will endeavor to poll the party's full strength."

Chairman Holton tells The Telegram the Republicans will open the campaign about the middle of the present month. He expects to have several noted speakers from other States, though no appointments have yet been made for any of them. Mr. Holton will continue his headquarters in Greensboro.

An Important Meeting.

The mass meeting in the court house Thursday night in the interest of the Central Carolina Fair, is of great importance and should be largely attended. Gen. Julian S. Carr, of Durham, one of the vice presidents of the fair association, will be present and deliver an address. Everybody has a cordial invitation to attend the meeting.

Tickets to the Band's Concerts.

The tickets for the entire course of concerts to be given by the Gate City Band, at the Academy of Music during the coming season, have been issued and may be purchased from any member of the band. Season tickets (for admission to six concerts) will be sold at $1.50 each; tickets to a single concert at 50 cents each.

Meeting of Women's Societies.

The Ladies' Aid Society and the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of Grace Methodist Protestant church met with Dr. Joy Harris this afternoon at 5 o'clock. The ladies were addressed by Miss Forest, a returned missionary from Japan. Refreshments were served.

Literary Meeting.

West Market Street Epworth League will tonight discuss the situation in China. A number of papers have been prepared giving the best thoughts from the brightest minds of the day.

A cordial invitation is extended to all who are interested in this subject to be present. Time, 8:30.

Mr Boycott Branching Out.

Pleasant Brothers have sold their grocery store, on the corner of Walker avenue and Spring street, to Mr. O. D. Boycott, who will conduct it in the future. He will move his feed and grain store from West Market street and consolidate it with the grocery business.

BRYAN SPEAKS TO A MULTITUDE.

Fifty Thousand Hear Him in Chicago and Cheer Him to the Echo.

By Wire to The Telegram

Chicago, Sept. 3.—Fifty thousand enthusiastic people crowded into Electric park today to hear W. J. Bryan speak. Mr. Bryan's voice was in splendid condition and he made a great speech, thrilling the vast assemblage. He was interrupted time after time by vociferous applause, and at the conclusion of his speech was given a magnificent ovation.

END OF GREAT SUFFERING.

Mr. J. A. Byrd Passed Away Yesterday. Prayed for the Relief of Death--Funeral This Afternoon.

Mr. J. A Byrd, who has been critically ill for some time, died at his home on North Spring street yesterday morning at 10 o'clock. He had been in feeble health for 18 months or more and at times suffered greatly. For the past few weeks his condition was critical in the extreme and it was known that his death was only a question of time.

During the spring of 1898 he suffered a painful and serious accident, from which he never recovered. The Fire Department was giving an exhibition of the Hook and Ladder Company's new aerial truck on the corner of South Elm and East Washington streets, when Mr. Byrd received a severe blow on the head from a falling ladder. The injury affected his spine, and he was never again able to attend to his business.

About three months ago he went to Johns Hopkin's Hospital, Baltimore, for treatment, but the physicians in charge gave him no encouragement. After his return home he was able to be up but little and at times suffered agony, especially toward the last of his illness. During his rational moments in the last two weeks of life he prayed for the relief that would come through death.

Mr. Byrd was a quiet, inoffensive man and a good citizen. For a number of years he conducted a barber shop in the McAdoo House building, enjoying a liberal patronage and meeting with success in business. He leaves a devoted wife, who watched faithfully by his bedsiee to the end came.

The deceased was a member of West Washington Street Baptist church and Greensboro Council No. 13, Jr. O. U. A. M. The funeral took place at his residence this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, being in charge of the Junior Order, the members of which attended in a body. The service was conducted by Rev. L Johnson and interment made in Green Hill cemetery.

LABOR DAY.

To the Editor of the Telegram:

Labor Day has come. The one day set aside by the national congress in honor of the sons of toil has dawned upon us, bringing to the skilled and unskilled toiler the day of rest for him and his family. It is not so much the day of rest that delights and enthuses, but the thought that he has been remembered by the law-makers at our national capital. He may well be proud, for it clearly goes to show that labor has not gone unrewarded. The day is known but little of, except what we glean from the metropolitan dailies, in this part of the country, but where organized labor is in evidence, today millions will participate in the festivities to its honor. Picnics, excursions, parades, etc., will form the major part of the attractions. The workingman will gather around him this day those who are dear to him and hie himself from the scenes of his labor to the country or to the beach and enjoy the day as he would no other in the year. It is his day, set aside for him, and to him it belongs.

But one city in our State will observe this day, and that is Charlotte, and, from reports, the day will be a pleasant one. A basket picnic at Latta park, a baseball game and a parade of the trades union, all uniformed. Tomorrow's papers will show that the day has not been one of riot, but that throughout the country it has been observed as one of rest and amusement for the laborer and his family.

All honor to the laboring man, for his is not a bed of roses. LABOR.

THE KINGDOM OF HEAVEN.

ITS RELATION TO THE INDIVIDUAL

Even After Calvary the Kingship of Christ Was Not Fully Apprehended—Sometimes Today He Receives the Crown of Thorns and the Ironical Inscription of King—The Old Cry of Repentance Addressed to the People of Today—Characteristics of the Kingdom.

A large congregation heard Mr. J. W. Bailey, editor of the Biblical Recorder, of Raleigh, at West Washington Street Baptist church yesterday morning. He spoke on "The Kingdom of God as Related to the Individual," making an address of much power and force. Mr. Bailey is a fluent and ready talker, as well as a strong and convincing writer, and never fails to say something of interest, whether he speaks from the rostrum or through the columns of his paper. In the course of his remarks yesterday morning he said:

"Jesus was announced, hailed, hated and crucified as a king—an earthly king. The disappointment of the Jews is scarcely less pathetic than His disappointment in them, crowned as it is by His crucifixion.

"One would think that after Calvary—at least after these centuries—the nature of the kingship of Christ, certainly as far as the individual Christian is concerned—would have been fully apprehended. But I fear not. sometimes yet He receives the crown of thorns and the ironical inscription of King, even from those who regard themselves as His friends.

"John the Baptist came crying, Repent, for the kingdom of Heaven is at hand. Jesus opened his ministry with the same message; and when He sent forth the seventy they were charged to preach as they went, saying "Repent, for the ingdomk of Heaven is at hand."

"Evidently this message is of the first importance. Evidently it is addressed to people here and now; evidently it speaks of a kingdom ready, at hand, to be promulgated in the earth. If we agree upon so much, there is life only to be revealed, the character of the kingdom that is ready for us, provided we turn away from others and make ready to accept it.

"The kingdom of Heaven is of heaven, not of earth, but nevertheless it is intended for men and women on the earth, not of this world, but assuredly in this world. It is temporal as to place, but eternal as to character. We are liable to make the mistake of the Jews and confound ourselves here by looking for any earthly king, only failing to find an earthly king in Jesus and therefore abandon Him. Be sure that He is ready to be your king upon the earth—but more. His kingdom is in the hearts of men, is a moral kingdom, and as the moral relation includes and transcends all others, as His kingdom includes all life—domestic, personal, industrial, political and social as well as spiritual. And if Jesus rules he would rule utterly. Do not sufier the idea that, because He is not temporally visible, He is not temporally present. powerful and ruling. The moral relation, the spiritual life covers the whole."

Mr. Bailey then undertook to briefly sketch chief characteristics of the kingdom. "It is," he said, "a kingdom with a law—Righteousness. It is a kingdom of a principle—Love. It is a kingdom of an ideal—these beatitudes I have just now read to you, this parable of forgiveness, this similitude of childlikeness—these express forth the ideals of the kingdom; but we are to find them all at once in the person of Jesus, whom we are to imitate and appropriate.

"The Kingdom of Heaven is a kingdom with a purpose—the redemption and exaltation of sinful men.

"But I would lure you away from earthly corruptions again. Do not think that we can do these things. Do not think that we can come at them all in a day. It is a divine kingdom with a divine King who enables men and women to lay hold of His laws, His principle and His ideal, otherwise so far out of human reach. He hears the despairing note of the world. He knows that men are weak. He loves the weakest, the sinfulest and the miserablest, and when He says His kingdom is ready He means that it is ready to help—not simply ready to be re-

RECORD OF DROUGHT AND HEAT.

AUGUST TEMPERATURE OVER 82.

Smallpox in Fifteen Counties of North Carolina and Typhoid Fever in Fifty-Eight—As to Whether Property Other Than Railroads is Assessed Too Low—Forty Members of the Last Legislature Will be in the Next.

Special Correspondence of The Telegram.

Raleigh, Sept. 3.—August made a terrible record for drought and heat. The mean temperature here was a little over 82 degrees. That is quite equal to the tropics. There was only one cloudy day during the entire month and five partially cloudy ones The month was by an average of five degrees daily, the hottest ever known.

At the last moment Commissioner of Agriculture Patterson found that he could not go with the other commissioners to Asheville, and hence T. K. Bruner, secretary to the board of agriculture, took his place.

The August bulletin of the State board of health reports smallpox in 15 counties, typhoid fever in 58, malarial fever in 30. Wake led in typhoid, reporting 36 cases; Mecklenburg 20; New Hanover 27; Buncombe reported only 2. Hemorrhagic fever, which is more deadly than yellow fever, was reported in five counties, one as far west as Davidson. Hog cholera is reported in only four counties.

It is said that about three-fourths of the editors of the State are now members of the State Press Association.

It is very amusing to read the conflicting statements of some of the newspapers as to the results of the legal inquiry before Judge Simonton at Asheville as to whether property other than of railways is not in this State assessed, one may say habitually, at about two-thirds of its true value. One paper says the proof of this assertion is clear, the other that the proof to the contrary is equally clear, but it is significant that most of the "proof" is in the headlines over the telegram.

Secretary B. H. Woddell, of the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows, has in hand a petition for the revival of the lodge at Lincolnton. It seems to have been defunct a great while, so long that some of the signers did not give their ages, and the very youngest of them was above 80 years of age.

There were 33 deaths here during August, of these 11 were children under 5 years of age. One negro man died at the certified age of 108.

The attendance at the park this summer is the largest on record, and also applies to the number of persons at the bathing pool in the park. This pool is a great thing for comfort. A charge of only 10 cents is allowed and this gives the use of a dressing room and towel. The depth of the water is from 3 to 10 feet.

Quite rapid work has been done this year here in the matter of street macadamization, yet not so rapid as was expected.

It is said that the statue of Worth Bagley will be placed in a circle in the northeast corner of the capitol square.

WIFE ROBBED HIM IN HIS SLEEP.

Husband Lost Watch and $88, and Sues for Divorce.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 2.—William B. Schwartz wants a divorce because his wife took his money while he was asleep. In his complaint he says that on the night of August 10 he had a gold watch and a bag containing $88 under his pillow. When he awoke the next morning the watch and money were missing.

Mr. Schwartz declares that Mrs. Schwartz confessed to taking the money and jewelery, and that she returned the money after assurances that she would not be prosecuted. He says the watch and ring were found at a pawnshop.

Mrs. Schwartz denies the charges, and says it is all a plot by her husband for revenge because she had him arrested for non-support.

FEARED PREMATURE BURIAL.

Man Will be Cremated Without Prayer or Any Ceremony.

Reading, Pa., Sept. 2.—In fulfillment of his last wishes the body of Joseph Blochinger, who died at West Reading, will be taken to Germantown, Philadelphia, tomorrow morning in a plain black casket, and without a word of prayer, service or ceremony there cremated.

For many years Mr. Blochinger declared emphatically against burial. His aversion to holding services over his remains was equally pronounced. Fear of premature burial is thought to have influenced him in his desire for cremation.

THE CHURCH AND THE MISSIONS.

Bishop Candler Says the Missionaries Have Not Been Called from China and Will Not Be.

Macon, Ga., Sept. 1—Bishop Warren A. Candler passed through the city yesterday. "What will be the attitude of the Church toward the Chinese missions in view of the present troubles in China?" he was asked.

"The Church is absolutely unaffected by the troubles in China and the missions there will proceed as they have hitherto. It will be the same as when Paul went into Phillippi. The troubles there had no effect on him and his going was vastly more important to the world than the war which was in progress.

"The missionaries in China will have more influence in the future of that nation than the captains that have been sent over.

"Indeed, we have nothing to do with the results of our labors in China. We have the command to do it and the work must go on."

"Will the missionaries be sent back into China as soon as the trouble has abated there?" was asked.

"They never have been called away from there as yet, and will not be. Some of them have left their posts for the time being, but Bishop Wilson has already gone to China to hold the China Conference, and the work will continue as heretofore.

"Oh, the missionaries are not scared. It is capital that is scared for them. I do not know of anything more scary than a dollar, unless it is two dollars. People who want the missionaries to come home are those who don't want to support them. Missionary work will continue to go in China," he concluded.

OPENING OF THE CITY SCHOOLS.

All the city public schools, except No. 5, white, will open on Friday September 7, at 8:30 o'clock. Children from 6, to 21 whose parents or guardians live within the city limits will be admitted free of charge for tuition. Others will be admitted upon the payment of tuition fees in advance.

The Superintendent will be at the Lindsay Street school on Wednesday September 5, from 8:30 to 11:00 a. m. and at the Asheboro Street school during the same hours on Thursday, September 6, for the purpose of examing and grading all new white pupils.

The work begins on the first day. It is very important that all children enter on the first day and continue in school every day.

A CALL TO DEMOCRATS.

Next Friday and Saturday Set as the Dates for the Organization of Local Clubs All Over North Carolina—State Convention of Clubs to Meet in Raleigh.

To the Democrats of North Carolina:

Recently the Hon. William J. Bryan, the Democratic candidate for President; the Hon. Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic candidate for Vice President; the Hon. James K. Jones, chairman of the Democratic national committee, and the Hon. William R. Hearst, president of the National Democratic Clubs, issued the following, to-wit:

To the Democrats of the United States:

In order that the fight for the rescue of the country from Republican policies may be carried on everywhere with vigor and earnestness, we urge all citizens throughout the United States, who are willing, to meet in their respective communities on Saturday afternoon, or evening, September 1st, 1900, for the purpose of organizing city or precinct clubs, where such clubs have not already been organized. These organizations being Democratic, should avoid ostentation and extravagance. The fight must be carried on by American citizens in behalf of American principles, and there should be no delay in perfecting club organizations. When a club is organized, the secretary should at once send to W. R. Hearst, president of the National Association of Democratic Clubs, No 137 Broadway, New York city, the name of the club, roster of officers, date of organization and number of members.

WILLIAM J. BRYAN,
ADLAI E. STEVENSON,
JAMES K. JONES,
Chmn. Dem. Nat. Com.
WM R. HEARST,
Pres. Nat. Asso. Dem. Clubs.

On account of the election recently held in this State, as well as the shortness of the time, the undersigned do not deem it advisable to undertake the organization of clubs in this State before the middle of September, and, after conference, recommend Friday, 14th day of September, (at night), as the time for the organization of clubs in the towns and cities, and Saturday, the 15th of September, as the day for their organization in the country precincts, and request that on those dates meetings be held in the several precincts of the State for the purpose of organizing clubs in accordance with the suggestion contained in the call above set out.

There are in North Carolina about 1,000 White Supremacy Clubs. It is recommended that wherever these clubs now exist, that they meet on the one or the other of the days above mentioned, and that they be organized for the present national campaign into Bryan and Stevenson Clubs, under the same general plan of organization under which they have heretofore operated. In addition to the precinct clubs heretofore mentioned, it is recommended that there be organized in every county a county club, to be composed exclusively of the chairmen of the several precinct clubs, and that the chairman of the county executive committee shall be ex-officio chairman of the county club.

For the purpose of appointing delegates at large to the convention of the National Association of Clubs, to be held at Indianapolis, Ind., on October 3rd, for the purpose of holding a great mass meeting in the State's capital to ratify the nomination of Bryan and Stevenson, and for the transaction of other business connected with club work in the State, a State convention of the Democratic Clubs is hereby called to convene in the city of Raleigh on Wednesday, the 26th of September, and each precinct club is hereby requested, at its first meeting, to select delegates to this convention and elect one delegate for every ten members to the national convention. Each club shall be entitled to one delegate to the several conventions for every ten and fraction over five names on the club roster.

When a club is organized, the secretary is requested to at once send to Hon. W. R. Hearst, president National Association of Democratic Clubs, No. 1370 Broadway, New York city, and to F. M. Simmons, chairman of the State executive committee, Raleigh, N. C., name of the club, roster of officers, date of organization and number of members.

A CALL TO WORKING MEN.

To the Editor of The Telegram:

At no period of the world's history has the necessity of combination on the part of labor become so apparent to every thinking mind as at the present time, and especially so in the State of North Carolina, and perhaps no other State in the United States have been so forgetful of the struggling masses that are in our midst, and who are daily being trodden down by the capital of a foreign foe who has presumed the right to dwell under the Red, White and Blue, under which many gallant heroes have sacrificed their lives to protect from every foe. Whereas this capital combined with other capital of the dear old North State has assumed to itself the right to own and control labor for the accomplishments of its own greedy and selfish ends, regardless of the laws of nature and nature's God, while the working classes, who produce all the wealth, are being reduced to the most abject and the most deplorable position, their employers are daily accumulating immense riches—until at length capital must centre in the hands of a few individuals or coporations—to be used with fearful effect in still further depreciating, oppressing and degrading the laborers. People in our old North State condemn that which they do not thoroughly understand, through this prejudice and ignorance have failed to pay that strict attention and regard to the principles of unity for elevating their condition and for the accomplishment of good work, which is so much required in creating confidence, generating estcem and respect, and for promoting harmony and good feeling among themselves, therefore, let every man, woman and child who reads this, weigh the substance of this appeal within their mind and then determine to become united in one great band to protect the right of ourselves and our fellowman, therefore, let us enter into this work with the spirit of sincerity and honesty of purpose. It is impossible for labor to occupy the noble and dignified position which it ought to hold. Until the relations of capital and labor are equitably adjusted by the employers giving to the employees a just and honest proposition of the profits of labor. Whereas, believing the truth of the following maxim: That they who would be free themselves must strike the blow, that in union there is strength, and self preservation is the first law of nature. We hold the justice and truth of the principle that merit makes the man, and we firmly believe that industry, sobriety and proper regard for the welfare of our fellowman form the basis upon which the principle rests. We therefore, recognize no rule of action or principle that would elevate wealth above industry, or the professional man above the working man. We recognize no distinction in society, except those based upon worth, usefulness and good order, and no superiority except that granted by the great architect of our existence, and calling upon God to witness the rectitude of our intention. We former employees of Proximity cotton mills, having been unjustly treated by that concern, appeal to every laboring man and woman in North Carolina to become members of this great body and help carry it on to victory. May God speed the day when our old State shall be pure from the influence of every foe who is opposed to the elevation of the laborers of our land.

Written by an ex-employe of the above named mill. Any one desiring any information concerning the treatment he has received at hand, can get it by addressing the undersigned.

Rufus Choate's Bad Writing.

George Ticknor, the historian of Spanish literature, was once called as a witness in a case in which Rufus Choate was engaged, and, being seated by the eminent counselor, was attracted by the notes which he had made of the evidence. After eying them with interest, he remarked that the writing reminded him of two autograph letters in his possession—one of Manuel the Great of Portugal (dated 1512) and the other of Gonsalvo de Cordova, the great captain, written a few years earlier. (Any one who has glanced over these remarkable specimens of chirography will marvel that it was possible to make out a syllable of such illegible scrawls.)

"These letters," Mr. Ticknor assured Mr. Choate, "were written 350 years ago, and they strongly resemble your notes of the present trial."

Choate instantly replied, "Remarkable men, no doubt; they seem to have been much in advance of their time."—Caroline Ticknor in Truth.

WINE OF CARDUI

A SURE MEDICINE.

HANDSOM, VA., Dec. 31.

I have been suffering from female weakness for four years, and have taken many medicines, but Wine of Cardui and Black-Draught have done more for me than anything else.

MRS. CAROLINE EVANS.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

It is a mistake to take any and every kind of medicine when you are sick. There is danger in it. Most of the so-called cures for "female weakness" do nothing more than deaden the pain temporarily, and when the effect wears away the patient is weaker and sicker than before. It is never wise to take chances. You have only one life, and that is dear and precious. If you have any pain, ache, disorder or weakness in the feminine organs, nothing will help you like Wine of Cardui. It helps do away with morning sickness during the early stages of pregnancy, and modifies the pains of childbirth; recovery is rapid and future health is assured. The Wine is purely vegetable, being made of herbs whose medicinal properties act directly upon the organs of womanhood. It is a long-tried remedy, and has many years of success behind it. It is sure. Why take a chance medicine when you can get a sure medicine?

MONDAY SEPTEMBER 3, 1900.

A DISCIPLE OF THE SPECTACULAR.

There have been a number of men elected President of the United States on their war record. A good war record has always been a drawing card. It was owing to this fact that the Republicans seized upon Theodore Roosevelt as a candidate for the Vice-Presidency. The only trouble is that his war record is assumed, and not really what it purports being. Roosevelt is a man of some ability, much energy, and a consuming egotism. He loves the applause of the grandstand, and no one who loves this is safe. He is eminently a disciple of the spectacular. The Washington Post has been prying into his war record as written by himself, in his book, the "Rough Riders," and rather tears up some popular fallacies. From the article we quote a part:

He is held up to public admiration as a military genius, the hero of San Juan Hill. He poses as the central figure of the Santiago campaign—the indomitable, the irrepressible, the blazing, foaming incarnation of battle. He has been represented as an exalting force, a heaven-born leader. It is claimed for him—indeed, in his book, "The Rough Riders," he claims it for himself—that he was always the master of every crisis; that he invariably appraised the situation with unerring accuracy; that his presence dispelled the clouds of timidity or hesitation and filled all beholders with a rage for deadly combat; that his mere example made the army irresistible. There is a general impression, which Roosevelt has at least done nothing to discourage, that he saved the day at Guasimus; that he led the charge on San Juan Hill and blockhouse, and that, generally, he furnished the brains, the valor, and the inspiration of the whole affair.

Upon the strength of this hypothesis, carefully built up and industriously disseminated, Roosevelt is now a candidate for the Vice-Presidency, the idol of the hero-worshipers and the pride and glory of the multitude. He represents to the rural districts the directing spirit of the war with Spain, and his rumpled old cowboy suit and weather-beaten sombrero are the symbols of martial pomp and devastating onslaught.

Certainly it is fair to examine the basis of pretentions so vast as these, and surely we may be acquitted of all hostile prejudice when we confine our inquiries to Roosevelt's own statements as they are carefully and deliberately conveyed to an eager world through the medium of his copyrighted book, "The Rough Riders." We have made a reasonably sincere study of this great work and find that it furnishes all needed illustrations of Roosevelt's military spirit and intelligence. We begin, therefore, with the battle of Las Guasimas. This battle has been regarded, very erroneously, as a blunder. Captious persons have declared that Roosevelt floundered into an ambush, and that, but for the colored regulars, he would have been injuriously trimmed. The fact is that the movement was carefully planned by General Young, with the knowledge and perhaps the advice of Col. Wood. Our attack was made by two bodies simultaneously, which had advanced by different paths upon the Spanish works. It was a thoroughly organized reconnoissance by force, and the only officer concerned in it who seems to have been at all bewildered was Roosevelt. On page 99 of his book, after describing the skirmish in a most spirited manner and bringing himself to some "buildings," of which he speaks frequently, he adds: "The firing had now died out, but I was still entirely uncertain as to exactly what had happened. I did not know whether the enemy had been driven back, or whether it was merely a lull in the fight and we might be attacked again; nor did I know what happened in any other part of the line, while, as I occupied the extreme left, I was not sure whether or not my flank was in danger." Of course, it is quite evident that Roosevelt won this fight. His language is not altogether coherent, but the greatest of men are sometimes dazed by the magnitude of their own achievements. Roosevelt's trance did not last long, however, for on the very next page—100—he says: "Then I started over toward the main body, but to my delight encountered Wood, himself, who told me the fight was over and the Spaniards had retreated."

Roosevelt's part in the assault on San Juan Hill, as related by himself, contributes with still greater force to the establishment of his pre-eminence in the Santiago campaign and especially to the claim that he led the charge in that glorious and brilliant action. In his book will be found two stirring pictures, one entitled "Charge of the Rough Riders at San Juan Hill," and the other, "Col. Roosevelt and the Rough Riders at the point where they charged over the hill at San Juan." And mighty fine pictures they are, especially the first mentioned, which shows Roosevelt galloping furiously in the lead with outstretched sword and flaming at each nostril. Nevertheless, we prefer the text as being more comprehensive while quite as brilliant. Describing his own movements on the tragic occasion, July 1, 1898, he thus begins—page 128: "The Ninth Regiment was immediately in front of me, and the First on my left, and these went up Kettle Hill with my regiment." Observed the "with," if you please. At first reading, we told ourselves that the intelligent compositor had been playing tricks with Roosevelt, sending him off to an obscure engagement and cruelly eliminating him from the great affair of the campaign—San Juan Hill. But, after picturing the assault on Kettle Hill—which seems to have been attended by very little trouble—and telling how "his men" found cover there, he adds—page 134: "We had a splendid view of the San Juan blockhouse to our left, where the infantry of Kent, led by Hawkins, were climbing the Hill." And then, giving the finale as he observed it from Kettle Hill, about one-third of a mile distant, he says—page 136: "The infantry got nearer and nearer the crest of the Hill (San Juan). At last I could see the Spaniards running away from the rifle pits as the Americans came on in their final rush."

It appears, from a further reading of the book, "Rough Riders," that, after Kent had taken and occupied San Juan Hill, Roosevelt exhibited a great deal of first-class martial fury, charging and whooping in various directions, and doubtless frightening the then routed Spaniards out of their remaining wits. The fact remains, however, that Roosevelt's own book shows that he didn't know where he was at in the Guasimas affair, and that his knowledge of the successful assault on San Juan Hill and blockhouse was acquired wholly through long-distance observation.

THE BOGIE MAN.

The doodlers opposed the constitutional amendment and therefore they cannot be charged with inconsistency in endeavoring to corrall and vote the negroes at the November election. But with what consistency on show of decency can a respectable Republican who voted for the constitutional amendment, or how can a gold, or as they are now called, McKinley democrat (a queer sort of a critter), who voted for the amendment do that thing? They both supported and voted for the amendment for the very good reason that the ignorant negro is not a fit person to exercise the privilege of suffrage. That's what every one of them would answer if they were asked why they voted for the amendment. They would both also say that they voted for it to eliminate the negro from politics and make our political parties as nearly as practicable white. That's what they did it for and they were honest in it.

Granting that they were sincere and honest, how can they consistently or with any show of decency or of self-respect ally themselves with the revenue doodlers who fought them in the August campaign and help them to muster, register and vote these 80,000, more or less, ignorant negroes who they said by the ballots they cast at the August election were not fit to vote and should not be entrusted with the ballot?

The only thing wrong in that is that our level-headed friend of the Star has had dust thrown into his eyes by those who have discovered some thousand of Catalines laying deep and venomous conspiracies to carry North Carolina for McKinley. They have dubbed these imaginary conspirators "McKinley Democrats," and induced the papers like the Star to go for them like the woods were afire, when really no such scheme exists, and certainly no gold Democrat would care to have such exist. The Star has laid the bogie man out. We challenge it or the other papers to produce the names of the Catalines.

Jones Limits Bryan to Two Speeches a Day

Chicago, Sept. 3.—Senator Jones, chairman of national committee, gave out a statement yesterday that Mr. Bryan, under no circumstances, would make more than two speeches a day. While the presidential candidate is passing from one point to another where he is scheduled to speak, he will not leave the train at intermediate points to deliver speeches from platforms erected in the neighborhood, as was the custom during the campaign of 1896. There will be no deviation from this rule.

is where we stand in the lumber business. At the kicking post, as it were, in regard to prices.
First comes the owner of the timber. He just woke up to the value of it and wants double last year's prices. Then the sawmill man. He has not been making a fortune and thinks now he should share a little in the general prosperity
They say to us: "We must have so much for our trees and work." After a while it is "up to you." Don't kick. You don't suppose we have nerve enough to put up prices unless they had first been put up on us. No, indeed. But prices are NOT high. They have been to low and are just now getting reasonable. Your children will be glad to build at double the price it now costs you. It is a trite, but true saying, if you want to build, "Now is the time."
And ours is the place to get the stuff.

This house will be occupied by Mrs. Doak, who moves in order to give Judge Boyd possession of his residence on the corner of West Washington and South Ashe streets.

Longevity of Fish.

There are some goldfish in Washington which have belonged to the same family for the last 50 years, and they seem no bigger and no less vivacious today than they did when they first came into the owner's possession. A few of the fish in the Imperial aquarium at St. Petersburg are known to be 150 years old, and the age of the sacred fish in some of the ponds attached to the Buddhist temples in China is to be counted by centuries, if we are to believe the priests.

We must make room for our fall goods at once; hence from now on you will think that Uncle Sam's entire army has invaded this section. for it will be BANG, BANG, BANG, continually. No such thing as let up. We intend to make quick work of it. The war on high prices and big profits is a just one and our victorious BANNER OF LOW PRICES proudly waves over this territory. Not even the rainy season, cold or hot weather, has any tendency to impede the progress of the vast army of trading people that are constantly pouring into our store. We bring them down at either short or long range. Why it is the cry on every hand, going to the CHEAPEST STORE ON EARTH. It is no wonder. We do what we promise and promise only what we do. My! listen: Dimity 2½c; Lawns 2½c; Overalls 25c; Piques, Organdies and Lawns, at prices never before heard of; Good bleaching 5c; Barker Mills bleaching 6¼c; Best 5c sock on the market.

Everything Cheap!

ASK FOR WHAT YOU WANT, WE HAVE IT. Each of the following articles only ONE CENT: 12 safety pins, paper pins, 2 packages hair pins, 24 sheets paper, 25 envelopes, 2 blank books, 2 balls thread, 7 penholders, 13 pens, 16 fish hooks, 4 lead pencils, and thousands of other articles at same price.

FIRE LOSSES ADJUSTED.

Correspondence of The Telegram.

High Point, Sept. 3.—Part of the losses in the recent fire that have been adjusted are as follows, with amounts allowed: A. V. Sapp & Co., $4,000 and stock saved; H. Harris & Bro., $2,000 and stock; J. W. Sechrest, $183 and stock saved; G. W. Spencer, $375 and stock on hand; Opera House, $200 on furniture; Montgomery & Son, $102.72 on stock; Mrs. Hattie Smith, $98 for damage to building; Mrs. J. J. Welch, $400 on building; Turner & Matton, $1,500 on building.

Mrs. J. J. Farriss, who has been quite sick at Hot Springs, was brought home Friday night on the vestibule. Her condition seems to be somewhat improving.

Mr. J. A. Wofford, of this place, owns a cow that gives seven gallons of milk a day. This cow is one of the finest in the State and no doubt will be a prize winner at the Central Carolina Fair to be held in Greensboro in October.

Prof. Ernest E. Johnson, wife and son, from Pennsylvania, are visiting their kinsman, Mr. E. M. Purdy. Prof. Johnson will occupy the chair of science and English literature in Mt. Pleasant College this coming term.

Pearl Lloyd was taken to Baltimore today by Dr. W. J. McAnally for treatment. One of the bones in his left arm is diseased, which necessitates removal.

A party from the North is negotiating to move his factory to High Point, so your correspondent is informed.

Mrs. W. G. Bradshaw and daughters are spending several weeks at Hot Srings.

Rev. M. A. Kelsey, pastor of the Friends church here, has tendered his resignation and with his family will leave Tuesday for the West, where he will locate. Mr. Kelsey has done a great work for his church during his pastorate here and the people will regret to part with him.

Mr. George T. Leach and family, formerly of this place, but who of late have been residing in Raleigh, have moved back. Mr. Leach is the owner of the Bellevue Hotel, and other valuable property here.

On account of the prolonged hot weather the opening of school has been postponed until next Monday.

High Point, Sept. 3.—Yesterday afternoon Mr. D. H. Parnell's horse, while hitched to a buggy in his yard, became frightened and ran out into East Washington street, keeping down the road at a rapid rate until a ditch was reached close to the colored M. E. church, where the horse fell in a heap, sustaining several bad bruises. The buggy escaped with a broken dashboard. There was no one in the vehicle.

Prof. G. H. Crowell occupied the pulpit at the Methodist Episcopal church yesterday morning, preaching an excellent sermon.

A good many young people went from here to Jamestown yesterday. A series of meetings are in progress there.

Messrs. Oscar Poole and Charles Godfrey, of Greensboro, were visitors yesterday.

Owing to the fact that most of the paraphernalia and initiation equipment of the Jr. O. U. A. M. was destoyed in the recent fire, the organization had to order the missing "things" last week, so as to be ready to receive the new candidates for membership in full array. Notwithstanding the faithful old goat kicked his last time as he "went up" in the conflagration, a larger, healthier, and a more wicked one, with horns that are hard to hinder, is enroute to the scene of action. Oh! woe is me.

The several secret orders are meeting in the old Masonic hall at present. High Point needs a good, substantial building in which an opera house, lodge rooms and offices should be located. That it would pay some one to erect such a structure, goes without saying. Since the fire there is no place where these business accommodations can be found. Buildings of any kind are at a premium at the present time.

A number of people here will take advantage of the special rate to Asheville tomorrow.

About all of the losses in the recent fire here have been satisfactorily adjusted and the merchants have got down to business again.

Mrs. J. J. Farris, who has been quite sick is improving daily.

J. E Jones, the photographer, who took two different views of the fire the next morning, has the pictures on exhibition in the show window at Ring's drug store.

Blue Jay Tree Planters.

An old time Arizona woodchopper says the blue jays have planted thousands of the trees now growing all over Arizona. He says these birds have a habit of burying small seed in the ground with their beaks and that they frequent pinyon trees and bury large numbers of the small pine nuts in the ground, many of which sprout and grow. He was walking through the pines with an eastern gentleman a short time ago when one of these birds flew from a tree to the ground, stuck his bill in the earth and quickly flew away. When told what had happened, the eastern man was skeptical, but the two went to the spot and with a knife blade dug out a sound pine nut from a depth of about 1½ inches. Thus it will be seen that nature has plans of her own for forest perpetuation.

Sweet and Low.

A young man named Sweet engaged to marry a young woman named Lowe. A few Sundays previous to the wedding the happy couple attended church together, and as they walked along the aisle the choir began singing the song "Sweet and Low," entirely unconscious of the musical pun that was being perpetrated. "And all this happened in a city in Michigan."—Choir Journal.

COLD STEEL OR DEATH.

"There is but one small chance to save your life and that is through an operation," was the awful prospect set before Mrs. I. B. Hunt, of Lime Ridge, Wis., by her doctor after vainly trying to cure her of a frightful case of stomach trouble and yellow jauntice. He didn't count on the marvellous power of Electric Bitters to cure stomach and liver troubles, but she heard of it, took seven bottles, was wholly cured, avoided surgeon's knife, now weighs more and feels better than ever. It's positively guaranteed to cure stomach, liver and kidney troubles and never disappoints. Price 50c at C. E. Holton's drug store.

In India, the land of famine, thousands die because they cannot obtain food. In America, the land of plenty, many suffer and die because they cannot digest the food they eat. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat. It instantly relieves and radically cures all stomach troubles. Howard Gardner. Aug.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and othaches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to moke you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by Grissom & Fordham.

RHEUMATISM—CATARRH—DISEASES CURED BY B. B. B.

It is the deep-seated, obstinate cases of catarrh and rheumatism that B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) cures. It matters not what other treatments, doctors, sprays, liniments, medicated air, blood purifiers, have failed to do, B. B. B. always promptly reaches the real cause and roots out and drives from the bones, joints, mucuous membrane, and entire system the specific poison in the blood that causes rheumatism and catarrh. B. B. B. is the only remedy strong enough to do this and cure ond so there can never be a return to the symptoms. Don't give up hope, but try B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) or 3 Bs.

For sale by druggists and Howard Gardner, in Greensboro, at $1 per large bottle, or 6 large bottles (full treatment) $5. To prove our faith in B. B. B. we will send a trial bottle free to sufferers, so they may test the remedy at our expense. Address Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga.

LILIES.

Lilies, white lilies, ye calm my soul,
For the waters are wild and the billows roll,
And love and trust have drifted away
Like the distant sail on the breast of the bay.
In a moment more 'twill have drifted from sight
And be hidden away in the waste of night!

And then ye came with your pure, sweet gaze,
With your dainty, winsome, loving ways,
And crept like a dear dream into my heart.
I could not bear to send thee apart,
For the fragrance that floats on your balmy breath
To me whispers "peace," though the world calls it death.

—Rose Van B. Speece in Scranton Tribune.

COULDN'T FOOL HIM.

This Man Knew a Steamboat When He Saw One.

The agent of one of the ocean steamship lines, says the Chicago Tribune, told the following story of a St. Louis man who got into New York the day after the maiden arrival of a great liner:

After gazing at the vessel from the pier the St. Louisan said to the man at the gangplank:

"Purty good sized steamboat."

"She's a liner, ocean liner," was the lofty reply.

"She's purty high up, ain't she?"

"Ocean liners have to be. But when she is under way she doesn't look so high."

"Her chimneys ain't very high, though."

"Hinges on 'em?"

"Never heard of hinges on a funnel."

"How does she get under the bridge?"

"What bridge?"

"Why, any bridge. Steamboats out our way have hinges on their chimneys, and when they come to the bridges over the river they lower the chimneys, and she scoots under like she was greased."

The man at the gangplank observed the St. Louis man with lofty indifference.

"She ain't got any wheelhouses on her sides nor none at her stern," remarked the St. Louis man after he had made further inspection.

"Liners have propellers," said the man at the gangplank, and his nose turned up visibly.

"Well, I'll bet she can't run. It takes two wheels and a bow like an arrowhead and a scant hold to give a steamboat speed, sonny, and don't you forget it. If this steamboat was to get into the Mississippi, she'd go hard aground first clip."

"I have told you this is not a steamboat."

"Shucks! You can't gimme that. I saw a picter of her in one of our newspapers before I left home, and the printin under it said 'steamboat.' Do you think a St. Louis editor don't know a steamboat when he sees one? You're not on to your job yet."

SOWN BY GUNPOWDER.

In the grounds of the Duke of Athol and near Blair castle, England, stands a high, rocky crag named Craigiebarns. It looked grim and bare in the midst of beauty, and its owner thought how much prettier it would look if only trees, shrubs, etc., could be planted in its nooks and crannies. It was considered impossible for any one to scale its steep and dangerous acclivities, and no other way was thought of to get seed sown.

One day Alexander Nasmyth, father of the celebrated engineer, paid a visit to the duke's grounds. The crag was pointed out to him, and he was told of the desire of the duke regarding it. After some thought he conceived how it could be accomplished. In passing the castle he noticed two old cannon. He got a few small tin canisters made to fit the bore of the cannon and filled them with a variety of tree, shrub and grass seeds. The cannon was loaded in the usual way and fired at the rock from all sides.

The little canisters on striking the rock burst, scattering the seeds in all directions. Many seeds were lost, but many more fell into the ledges or cracks where there was a little moss or earth. These soon showed signs of life, and in a few years graceful trees and pretty climbing plants all sown by gunpowder were growing and flourishing in nearly every recess of the formerly bare, gray crag, clothing it with verdant beauty.

The Name Sioux.

The Indian name Sioux, as it appears in such town names as Sioux Falls, Sioux City and Sioux Rapids, is usually pronounced "Soo;" but sometimes, in the east chiefly, that simple pronunciation is not known. A committeeman not long ago visited a school in New England, where he heard the pupils say "Si-ox" with complete assurance. At a favorable opportunity he quietly spoke to the teacher of the error, saying, "You know, it is 'Soo,'" whereupon she asked the attention of the school and solemnly announced: "You have all been pronouncing this word wrong. It is not 'Si-ox,' but 'Soo-ox.'" The committeeman lacked the courage to pursue the subject further. —Exchange.

FORGET BUSINESS AT NIGHT

That Is the Only Way to Be Sure of Doing Your Best Work.

"Every business man of common sense knows, whether he chooses to acknowledge it or not, that the farther away he gets in the evening from his commercial associations during the day, so that his business associates or thoughts of it or them cannot get at him, the healthier he is, the wiser life he leads—in short, the better off he is in every respect and the abler for the duties of the morrow," writes Edward Bok in The Ladies' Home Journal.

"Now, what does he get in the city in the evening, even if he lives a carefully regulated life? There is no mode of life he can possibly follow which is in any way recuperative to his mental or physical being. He has never been out of hearing of the noises of the city or out of the range of its lights. Every night he has slept in the polluted air of the city and in the morning has looked out on the gray sidewalks which he sees all day long. What does such a man know of the exhilarating, refreshing and blood quickening experience of opening the shutters of his chamber window upon a landscape of space and sunshine? And, what is far worse, what do his wife and children know of such a blessing?

"Yet he deludes himself into the belief that he must live in the city, so as to be 'in touch with things.' If you ask him what those 'things' are, you invariably discover that they are of a business nature, either strictly business or some social convention which he feels has a bearing on his business. But it is always business, business! Now, a man living under this pressure rarely does his best work, although he fully believes that he is doing it. But he cannot be giving out the best because he does not allow the best to get within him."

A NIGHT OF TERROR.

"Awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the brave General Burnham of Machias, Me., when the doctors said she could not live till morning" writes Mrs. S. H. Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night. "All thought that she must soon die from pneumonia, but she begged for Dr. Kings New Discovery, saying that it had more than once saved her life, and had cured her of consumption. After three doses she slept easily all night, and its further use completely cured her." This marvelous medicine is guaranteed to cure all throat, chest and lung diseases. Only 50c. and $1.00. OF A LOCAL NATURE.

Occurrences of More or Less Importance to Greensboro Peeple.

There will be services at Westminster this evening at 8 o'clock, and also tomorrow at 11 a. m and 8 p. m.

Master Winfree Alderman entertained a number of his friends Saturday afternoon, the occasion being his fourth birthday.

Mr. T. C. Gales has purchased the residence on Summit avenue, opposite that recently purchased by Mr. Ernest Holt. He will move his family into it this week.

The county commissioners were in session today. This being a quarterly meeting, a good deal of business was before the board in the way of passing upon bills, allowing accounts, etc.

The name of Mr. W. C. Hammer, editor of the Asheboro Courier, is mentioned in connection with the Democratic nomination for Congress in the Fourth district. The convention will meet in Raleigh next Thursday.

For several days the police officers have been searching for a white woman from Randolph county who was thought to be in Greensboro, but so far she has not been located. She is wanted in Randolph to establish her identity in connection with some property.

The August term of Superior Court adjourned about 12 o'clock Saturday night, when the jury brought in a verdict in the case of Charles E. Mann vs. Kohl & Sweet, awarding the plaintiff damages to the amount of $12,500. The case will be taken to the Supreme Court.

THE MEETING CONTINUES.

Reported for The Telegram.

The congregations at Westminister yesterday were the largest witnessed in that church for many years. At the evening service the house was filled to overflowing.

Mr. Little's preaching continues to grow in popularity. He has kindly consented to remain over and continue the meeting for another day or two.

There were three services on yesterday. At the morning service a very strong sermon was preached on "The Assurance of Salvation" from the text: "The name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10. At 4:30 a service to the children from the text, "Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth." Again at 8 Mr. Little preached a most excellent sermon on "The Choice of Ruth," announcing as his text Ruth 1:16,17.

The services were continued today. At the service this morning the subject of a very instructive and comforting sermon was "The Sealing Work of the Holy Ghost," the text being Eph. 1: 13, "In whom also after that ye believed, ye were sealed with the Holy Spirit of promise."

There will be services again tonight at 8 o'clock, and also tomorrow at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. The subject of the sermon this evening will be, "The One Great Excuse." Mr. Little annnounced this morning that he would preach tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock on "The Final Blessedness of the Believer." If you have not yet attended any of these services, go out this evening and tomorrow. The meeting has been well attended by the members of other churches, and a most cordial invitation is extended to all to attend and participate in the remaining services

CIVILIZATION AND "ADS"

The tendency of the people to make use of the advertising columns of newspapers is a result of the progress of civilization. Even the woman who wants a servant no longer hangs over the back fence to ask the housemaid next door to find one for her, bnt advertises her need. The time is coming when a business establishment of any kind that shall not consider the convenience of the public enough to use the advertising colums of newspapers will be regarded as belonging to the old horse-car period.
